

Volunteering (Skype meeting 21st February 2017)

How A Young Woman Or Man, Being A Student Can Help his/her Community.

- A young man or woman can help their community by dealing with politics. Politics and learn what actually happens in their state will help them learn more things about what is really going on with all these political stuff. Politics can help them decide what they think is better for their country and can also help youngsters to get many aspects.
- Community can be helped by young people by using technology. It is known that older people don't know so many stuff about technological things as much as people of our age our younger ages know. If young people get more interested in technology and want to work on it and find out more, they can help our community to get developed with any technological contrivance and get evolved way better.
- Young people can help their community also by working. In believes if young people study and practice what they have studied, they can help their community in any way by being a doctor, a lawyer or anything else. They can also help their community by working now that they are still in schools because this will make the younger people wanting to work as well in the future to help their family or make the community to be better.

How Can They Raise Funds To Donate To Charity Associations.

Young people to help charity association should not give their money to aimless things, they could also gather some money that they are given (For example: birthday) into money box or a piggy bank .And when they believe that the money they have gathered is fine to donate it, he or she can donate it, they can also make a small street-shop and sell things they don't need in order to help a charity association.

What Can They Do In Case Of A Natural Catastrophe.

In case of a natural catastrophe the best thing someone can do is to save anything that is theirs and love (For example: they can help their family members) to be saved, anything from the object(s) they might be loving so much, and then they can save their pets and anything else that can possibly be saved.

HOW A YOUNG, BEING A STUDENT, CAN HELP THE COMMUNITY.

- Youngsters bring many fresh ideas, which can help their community.
- Build a house
- We can help disadvantaged people by making them a friendly place to stay,
 - In this way we help community and many homeless citizens.
 - Clean up your neighborhood and your city
 - Participate in school cleanup project we can help as students to clean up our neighborhood and our city. We can organize some cleaning up events like the forests and the coasts; we can also take part in different actions of our community to clean up many monuments and archeological places.
- Donate to your local food bank.
- A food bank receives food donations and distributes them to those in need. We can donate food and also to help in the kitchen and the serve of the food.
- To plant trees. That helps the production of oxygen in atmosphere an also helps to the regeneration of the forest.
- we can help to clean the senses and coasts
